WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO BE A BESTBET360 AFFILIATE

To become an affiliate of any company means you have a type of inter-company relationship with that company or you are a marketer and partner for that company.

Now that's a very good definition.
Here's a simpler definition that brings it closer to home.

An affiliate is someone that gets a commission(s) on money a company makes through him/her or money he/she helps the company earn.

You obtain a link (that contains a unique ID) from the company that leads to whatever the company is selling, and when anyone buys through that link, you get a percentage of the revenue as commission as a reward for bringing business to the company.

This is exactly how the BestBet360 affiliate program works. Create awareness about BestBet360 and when people join, BestBet360 pays you an agreed % of the income made from the person you referred.

Now that you know what an affiliate is and what it means to be a BestBet360 affiliate, let's talk about how to actually become one.
